DRUMMOND AND THE PUBLIC

C. Relationships with Providers and Contractors

Our providers and contractors are strategic partners, and in addition, a resource. For this reason, we treat them by observing good commercial practices. We construct and maintain commercial relationships that are open and sincere, and we make an effort to develop relationships that translate into mutual benefits that are sustainable in the long term.

Our selection of providers and contractors will be based on the quality, price, and products or services offered, carefully considering the diverse supply sources with the goal of guaranteeing the continuous availability of the product.
